The News.

We have some further details of the news by the Africa, chiefly relating to the Indian war and commercial matters. Nothing of special interest from Washington this morning. Mexico is enjoying another of its periodical revolutionary spasms. Col. Anderson, Filibuster Walker's second in command, has followed the example of his chief, and surrendered to the U. S. frigate Susquehanna. Of course, the captain of the Susquehanna will be reprimanded for arresting this piratical enterprise.

We hear from Kansas that at the election on the 4th instant the Lecompton Swindle was rejected by an overwhelming majority and the Free State ticket elected by an equally decisive vote.—Whether the administration will still insist, after this manifestation of "popular sovereignty," in forcing the Pro-Slavery Constitution upon Kansas, remains to be seen.

There was little change in the New York Produce, or Money Markets yesterday. There is a great accumulation of capital in New York now, and a corresponding scarcity elsewhere.

The telegraph reports mild and pleasant weather, in all directions, yesterday.

A correspondent at Poplin, Dunn County, in this State, sends us an account of the discovery of gold in that vicinity.

Our mild and brilliant winter weather continues, though last night the gathering clouds portended a change.

No change in our market yesterday.

Meeting of the Legislature.

Our State Legislature convenes at noon to-day, Madison is already full of Members, lookers-on, and others. A complete list of Senators and Assemblymen will be found elsewhere in this morning's paper. Much interest is expressed in regard to the character of the forthcoming Governor's Message and the action of the Legislature. The readers of the Sentinel will be kept fully and promptly advised, as usual, of all that transpires at the Capitol.

CENSURING THE ADMINISTRATION.—The St. Louis Republican, a leading Buchanan paper, pours a raking broadside into the Administration, for its considerate treatment of Filibuster Walker, and its criminal neglect of our army in Utah.

The Republican ventures the opinion that if Gen. Jackson had seized Walker, he would have hung him at the yard arm, and thinks it a burning shame that so much attention should be bestowed on the filibuster, while the flower of our Army is starving on the plains.

The Republican thinks that "no period in the previous history of this country has presented such a spectacle—such utter and wanton abandonment of an army that has done everything that men could do to carry out the orders of the Government, even with a belief that in doing so, they were rushing upon destruction."

CONGRESS.—In Senate, on the 11th, after some unimportant business, the further discussion of the Kansas question was postponed till next Monday, all parties "waiting developments."

In the House, a resolution to order the printing of 5,000 copies of the Coast Survey Report, was rejected; it being stated that about a million of dollars was yet due, on account of paper, printing and engraving for the last two Congresses. Leave was refused to Mr. Faulkner, to bring in a bill adding five regiments to the army. Mr. Grosebeck defended the President's Anti-Filibuster Message; and then the House adjourned.

CITY MATTERS.—Our Common Council meet to-night, to resume their discussion upon City Matters. We hope that the decision of Monday evening, not to issue any more City Bonds, will be adhered to. They could not be sold in the present condition of the money market, and the general distrust of Western securities, except at a heavy discount. We think the proposition of Ald. PRENTISS, to extend the time and divide the payment of the taxes, far preferable to the issue of additional bonds.

We learn that the Tax-payers Committee have nearly completed their labors and will be ready to submit their report, to an adjourned meeting of citizens, on Thursday evening.

CHLOROFORM USED BY A THIEF.—A man named Wm. McGuin was robbed of $148, a few days since in St. Louis, while stopping at a hotel at that place. The money was taken from under his pillow, by the thief who, it is believed, administered chloroform to, him and two others, who were in the same room before committing the theft. One of the others also lost $50, and upon waking all were oppressed with languor, and McGuin was bleeding at the nose.

FIRE AT SPARTA.—We learn from the Monroe Freeman, of the 7th inst., that the Monroe House, in the village of Sparta, Monroe County, was entirely destroyed by fire on the 5th inst. The furniture, however, was saved. There was an insurance on the property for $1,300, in the Ætna Company. The loss of the proprietor, Mr. FARWELL, is about $1,500.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The "James Buchanan" is the name of a slave schooner that has just landed a cargo of slaves on the coast of Cuba.—The name was a delicate compliment. The slaves should be sent to Kansas.

A PITIFUL SIGHT.—On Tuesday morning last, a man, a raving maniac, secured, for the protection of himself and others, in a close fitting box, with openings for the admission of light and food, passed through here on the cars. He was from Minnesota, and on his way to Maine, his native State.—Prairie du Chien Leader.

FORGERY BY A DOG.—The sagacity of some of the canine species is really astonishing. Some time ago we related an extraordinary instance of the intelligence of a dog, owned by a gentleman in this city, that had been trained to carry the Sentinel from the entrance up to his master's house, which was situated upon an elevation considerably above the street, and whenever the paper was missing used to go deliberately and steal one from the door of his master's neighbor, always taking care to bring the Sentinel, although it and the News were both left at the man's door. This is a fact and might be called a case of robbery by a dog, but the following told by the Bangor Union puts our story into the back ground altogether. Here it is:

"A large dog had been accustomed to get bits of money from his master and go to a meat stall to get his lunch of fresh meat. One day when the change was short, his master gave Growler a piece of white paper, on which was an order for the meat. The dog, after much urging, carried it to the meat stall and received his food, and so for several days, when, thinking one piece of paper as good as another, he would pick up pieces of white paper and carry them to the stall without applying to his master. It was not long before a long bill came in from the meat dealer, who had such confidence in the dog that he did not think to look at the paper, and the dog himself was very fat. No arrest was made, and the dog occupies as respectable a position in society as ever."

CIRCUIT COURT, JAN. 12—JUDGE MCARTHUR, PRESIDING.—The case of T. H. Chamberlin against the Mil. & Miss R. R. Co., was disposed of yesterday. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding him $1,500 damages, and the defendants then moved to set aside the verdict and have a new trial.

The accident by which the plaintiff Chamberlain lost his arm, happened a year ago last May. He was engaged by Holton & Co.'s Express on the M. & M. R. R., and was thrown, as is claimed, from the platform of one of the cars, by the engineers starting suddenly without giving the proper signal.

The case of the Madison Express robbery, is now in progress of trial. The parties are Samuel Marshall and others, against Henry Wells and others. Plaintiffs bring suit against the defendants—the American Express Co.—for some $7,000 delivered to them at Milwaukee to be delivered by them at the State Bank, Madison. It will be remembered that the money was stolen from the Express office in Madison in September last, and the plaintiffs now sue to recover the amount.

Butler, Buttrick and Cottrill, are counsel for the plaintiffs, and Ryan, Finch, Lyndo and Miller for the defense.

FIRE.—The Empire vinegar manufactory on Wells street between 2d and 3d streets, was consumed by fire last night. The alarm was given about 9 o'clock, and before the fire department could do anything the building was completely enveloped in the flames.

There was no water nearer than the river, which was two and a half blocks from the fire. The firemen did good service when they got to work, saving the adjoining building, the Cabinet Manufactory of H. Newhall & Co., which, for a time, was thought would certainly be destroyed.

It was saved with little damage. We did not learn whether the vinegar factory was insured or not. The loss will not probably exceed $2,000.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING—A DUCKING.—While a host of youngsters were skating upon the river, near Huron street bridge, yesterday afternoon, the ice broke and let three or four of them down, who, after getting a thorough soaking, were hauled out by their companions, and send home looking like drowned rats. They had a very narrow escape, and were it not for the prompt assistance of a number of other boys who happened to be close by at the time, they would not probably have had an opportunity to run home. The ice is very thin and quite rotten, particularly about the bridges. Other boys should take warning by this, and be careful how they venture on the ice.

NOTICE TO TRAVELLERS.—In our advertising columns will be found notices of a change of time in the running of the La Crosse & Milwaukee and the Racine and Mississippi Rail Roads, which travellers will do well to consult.

IRVING'S LIFE OF WASHINGTON.—An agent is now canvassing our city for subscriptions to Irving's illustrated life of Washington. The text, illustrations and general make up of the work, are excellent.

CITY TAXES.—The rejoinder of Mr. WALDO to the last philippic of Mayor CROSS will be found in this morning's paper. It is smooth, sarcastic and overwhelming.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.—There was a fair audience at the concert of the New England Bards for the benefit of the poor at Albany Hall last night. The "Bards" sung well.

MARINI'S PARTY.—The social party given by Professor Marini, at his Dancing Academy last night, was a plonsant affair. There was a goodly number of guests present who enjoyed themselves well.

GOLD IN WISCONSIN.—Our attentive and reliable correspondent at Poplin, Dunn Co., sends us an account of the discovery of gold in that vicinity. We hope, as well for the sake of Dunn County, as of the State at large, that the deposit is a small one.

M. F. & M. R. R. Co.—A CAPITAL APPOINTMENT.—The purchasers of the Watertown Division, of the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R., have elected N. J. Emmons, Esq., of the firm of Emmons & Van Dyke, a director. A better selection could not be made.

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED.—With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator. (See Advertisement.)

SUICIDE AT CHICAGO.—The Tribune of yesterday has the following account of a suicide in that city:

On Saturday morning about 6 o'clock it was discovered that a guest at the Madison House, named Joseph C. Sleeper, had taken poison, and was in a dying condition. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but the unfortunate man expired about 7 o'clock. Coroner Hanson held an inquest, and the jury returned a verdict of death by poison administered by his own hand.

Sleeper came to the hotel on Friday, and about 8 o'clock that evening complained of being unwell, and wished for a physician. Dr. Hurlbut was called. Sleeper complained that he had an ague chill, but the doctor found this to be untrue. Dr. H. left a prescription, which was sent by a servent to a drug store, and the medicine procured. At midnight, Dr. H. visited Sleeper again, and found him comfortable and doing well. Sleeper was left alone with his door unlocked, and told to ring the bell if he wanted anything. About 6 o'clock in the morning greane were heard in Sleeper's room, and the door found locked. A servant climbed through the transom window, and found Sleeper suffering from a violent paroxysm, and frothing at the mouth. Dr. Hurlbut was again summoned, and Sleeper admitted he had taken strychnine.

Sleeper has a wife in Sandown, New Hampshire, and he had recently been living in Elgin, in this State. He also resided in Joliet some time ago, where he has a brother.

From the Boston Traveller, Jan 6th.

Sub-Marine Operations at Sebastopol.

The reported abandonment of the expedition to Sebastopol to raise the sunken Russian vessels of war at that port, is not correct, so far as the Marine Exploring Company of Philadelphia is concerned, in which Col. J. E Gowan and others of the city have an interest. It may refer to the vessels of the Boston Submarine Company. A correspondent of the Transcript says:

"Advices received from the Company by the last steamer, represent that they were in full tide of successful operations, employing several hundred men, had recovered large amounts of valuable property, and had blown to pieces and raised a number of ships, besides having recovered many chains and anchors, guns, large amounts of copper, iron, hemp, and other valuable materials."

The bark Susan Jane had been dispatched for Liverpool, with a cargo valued at upwards of $40,000, being a portion of the property recovered from the bottom of the harbor, and a part of the share of the Marine Exploring Company.

They have at present large additional amounts of property on shore, awaiting a conveyance to Liverpool for disposal. The prospect for a handsome profit is regarded as very flattering, and the parties engaged in this undertaking have not the slightest intention of abandoning the work."

A NOBLE RELIC OF THE OLDEN TIME.—There is now living in a cheerful old age, in the town of Redfield, Oswego county, a gentleman known as Col. Johnson, who was the pioneer of that town, and who has nearly attained his 100th birth day. He still retains his faculties, mental and physical, almost unimpaired. He has voted at seventy-six annual elections—his first vote for President was cast for Gen. Washington, and his last for Col. Fremont. He has always, and does to this day occupy a prominent position in society, and is ever foremost in any laudable enterprise in his neighborhood or town.

Surely he must be regarded with much interest by his friends and townsmen as a noble link connecting with the present and the past, and we hope he may long live to enjoy the blessings which he and his compatriots secured for us.

Are there any others of those who voted for George Washington still living? Like the last survivors of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, the memories should be cherished, and their names held in remembrance.—Watertown, (N. Y.) Journal, Dec. 16.

LATEST NEWS!

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH

Further by the Africa.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

The Sepoys had been dispersed at Mussenabad, Mahinpoor, Malhula and Rohilcund.

Twenty-four members of the Royal Family of Delhi, with a powerful rebel chief, had been executed near Delhi.

The Punjaub was quiet, but there was a slight rising in the Southern Mahratta country; rebellion, however, was regarded as certain.

COMMERCIAL—Cotton—The slight improvement observable at the close of last week has been strengthened by the increased ease in money, coupled with a conviction that the Bank of England would soon be in a position to reduce its rates of interest. Holders have been less eager, sellers, in many instances shutting up their samples, whilst the demand both for the trade and for speculation, was much improved, and prices advanced 3 8d on middling and 4-8d on lower descriptions. Sales of the week reach 45,000 bales, and those of to-day are estimated at 5,000, including 3,000 for speculation and export.

BREADSTUFFS—The arrivals within the past week have been moderate, embracing some 12,585 quarters wheat, 15,567 bbls flour and 2,174 quarters Indian corn from the United States, and the trade has been without animation, except for speculative samples of wheat, which are scarce. Prices are lower. We quote American red wheat, 7s 8d@7s 6d for fine, and 6s 6d@7s for ordinary, and 6s 8d@6s 6d for every description.

FLOUR.—There has been some pressure to sell, and the market has become rather dull, as well as somewhat irregular. Western Canal brings 24@25s. Ohio 27@28s for choice, many shipments at 25@26s for 230 lbs. It has the effect of restricting the sales of the finer qualities of American for Indian corn. There has been a moderate consumptive demand, but holders have been offering more freely, 34s for mixed, and 39s for white may be regarded as top prices.

PROVISIONS.—Pork and beef have invited business by presenting greater varieties. In old there has been nothing doing,—prices remaining as heretofore nominal, but in new there has been a retail trade for bacon at 45@47 for prime mess. Pork 80s. Beef 100@105s for prime mess; to 110@112s for Indian. Lard, by retail, brings 52s58s with an occasional sale at 56s.

New York News.

NEW YORK, January 11.

We have had a succession of very heavy showers during the past eighteen hours, and there is no indication of fair weather. The wind is blowing heavily from the southeast—weather very mild.

The California mail steamer is now fully due at this port, with a fortnight's later news, but the thick and boisterous weather will prevent her arrival to-night.

Rio de Janeiro advices of the 6th are reported to have been received at New Orleans. Coffee was dull; molasses nominal.

Hon. Theodore Sedgwick was to day sworn in as U. S. District Attorney.

Horrid Murder.

HAMILTON, N. Y., Jan. 11.

A most atrocious murder was committed at Peterville, four miles from here, last night. Jared Comstock and his wife, aged over 70 years, were the victims. Their own son was the murderer. He has for some time been insane. About 8 o'clock last night he killed his father by knocking him down with an axe, and then killed his mother with a skillet. He then cut their hearts out. He cut one of the bodies in pieces and roasted the other in the stove, eating part of it. He intended to kill his sister. The murderer is in custody, and has confessed all.

Important from Kansas—The Election

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.

Kansas correspondence of the Democrat says that the Free State Legislature and State ticket received an average majority of 185 at Wyandotte. Majority against the Leavenworth Constitution is 572.

The Leavenworth Times of the 5th states that the average majority of the Free State ticket in that city is upwards of 1100. Against the Constitution, 1370.

Gentlemen from the Territory state that there is little doubt that the Free State ticket is elected by a large majority. No disturbance reported thus far.

Resolutions introduced in the Nebraska legislature, deprecating the action of the Lecompton Convention, in failing to submit the Constitutional vote to the people, and expressing that the establishment of such precedent may have important bearing upon the character of their domestic institution. Resolutions endorsing Ferguson to a seat in Congress in preference of Chapman, passed both Houses by a decided vote.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas presented a petition from Henry O'Reilly, in favor of establishing a telegraph line from the western borders of Missouri to Fort Laramie, and the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains. Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. Wilson introduced a bill explanatory of the act granting bounty lands to officers and soldiers, passed March, 1855, so as to secure claims to the heirs of persons making claims, who have died before the land warrants were issued.

HOUSE.—The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President, in response to the resolution calling for information relative to recent events in Central America.

Mr. Clingman moved that part of the President's recent message and accompanying documents relating to Commodore Paulding, and having reference to the orders of the Navy Department, be referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

A message was received from the President, stating that he had received a copy of the Constitution of Minnesota, together with an abstract of the votes polled for and against the same, and he now laid the Constitution before Congress in the manner prescribed by the instrument.

A message was also received from the President in response to the resolution inquiring whether the Government of Nicaragua had made any complaint on account of the arrest of General Walker, by Commodore Paulding, on its soil.

The President through the Secretary of State said that no such complaint had reached the Deputy. The House then went into committee of the whole on the state of the Union, and took up the President's Message.

Democracy and Filibusterism.

The News, of yesterday, publishes the special message of President Buchanan in relation to the arrest of Filibuster Walker, and accompanies it with a half column of eulogistic comments. We judge, from reading these, that our neighbor of the News did not read the message, but like a true party lingo-man, took for granted that it was all right. Thus the News says:

The case of Gen. Walker is a good illustration of the President's sagacity—of his solicitude for the honor as well as care for the rights of the U. S. In the face of a potent sympathy for Walker and of a national itching to obtain the rich vegas of Central America—in the face of the fiery threats of a good share of the South, we find that Executive authority so utterly discountenances filibustering as to authorize Paulding's arrest of the filibuster chief.

Now this is an entire—we will not say intentional—perversion of the Executive Message. In the first paragraph of that document, the President explicitly disavows the Commodore's act and pronounces it a "grave error." We quote what Mr Buchanan says on this point:

In capturing Gen. Walker and his command after they had landed on the soil of Nicaragua, Commodore Paulding has, in my opinion, committed a grave error.

* * * *

The error of this gallant officer consists in exceeding his instructions and landing his sailors and marines in Nicaragua, whether with or without the consent, for the purpose of making war upon any military force whatever, which he might find in the country, no matter from whence they came. This power certainly did not belong to him.

We should be glad to have the News explain by what process of reasoning it infers, from these premises, that Mr. Buchanan "authorized Paulding's arrest of the Filibuster chief?" Certainly, Mr. Buchanan himself asserts precisely the contrary.

The message does indeed denounce, and quite warmly, Filibusterism in the abstract. Take this paragraph, referring to Walker's expedition, as a sample:

It violates the principles of Christianity, morality and humanity, hold sacred by all civilized nations, and by none more than the people of the U. S. Disguise it as we may, such a military expedition is an invitation to reckless and lawless men to enlist under the banner of an adventurer to rob, plunder and murder the unoffending citizens of neighboring States who have never done them harm. It is usurpation of the war-making power which belongs alone to Congress. The government becomes an accomplice in the commission of this crime, unless it adopts all the means necessary to prevent and punish it.

* * * The avowed principle which lies at the foundation of the law of nations is the divine command that "all things whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do ye even so unto them." Tried by this unerring rule, we should be severely condemned if we shall not use our best exertion to arrest such expeditions against our feeble sister Republic, Nicaragua.

This, it must be confessed, is a vast improvement, in point of "Christianity, morality, and humanity," upon the doctrine of the notorious "Ostend Manifesto," wherein Filibustering, with Cuba for the object, was openly advocated and justified.

But if Mr. BUCHANAN has changed his opinions on this question, his party friends in the Senate have not. The moment his Walker message was read, it was attacked by Democratic Senators, from the North, as well as the South; while the only defenders that it found were Senator SEWARD, of New York, Senator PEARCE, of Maryland, and Senator DOOLITTLE, of Wisconsin. Not a member of his own political party stood up in the President's defence; while Senators PUGH, TOOMBS, DOUGLAS, DAVIS and BROWN, in turn denounced the message and its doctrines.

Mr. PUGH was of opinion that the principles laid down in the message were neither warranted by the Constitution, nor by any statute law of the United States, nor by any principle of the law of nations.

Mr. TOOMBS thought the Message contained grave and important errors, and entered his dissent from them. The President dared not defend, while he endeavored to palliate, this outrage to an American State.

Other Democratic Senators expressed similar views; Mr. DOUGLAS being highly complimented by Mr. BROWN, of Mississippi, for "his pluck in expressing his opinions," which were adverse to those of the message. Thus it appears that the majority of the Democratic Senators dissent in toto from the President's anti-Filibuster message—the reason for such dissent being, that its doctrines are antagonistic to these "peaceful," projects for the "extension of Slavery." On the other hand, it is not to be doubted that the great mass of the Republican Party and of the Northern People, concur in the sentiments we have quoted, and hold Filibusterism, its projectors, aiders and abettors, in very much the same light that they do all other piracies on the high seas, or robberies and murders on the land.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

A New California—Gold Discovered in Wisconsin.

PEPIN, DUNN CO., WIS., Jan., 6th, 1858.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Please to say to your readers and the good people of Wisconsin, that they need no longer travel to distant California to find gold. If the statements of good and reliable men are to be relied upon, Wisconsin has within her own bosom the genuine native article, and PEPIN, our young, thriving, growing PEPIN, is one of the points where the valuable ore is being picked up.

I write in sober earnestness, intending what I say for the truth. The story concerning that recent discovery, as related to me by E. LATHROP, President of the Chippewa Bank, and U. E. SHAVER, Surveyor, runs as follows: A resident of this place was looking for a suitable spot to dig a well on land situated about two miles from the village, and while examining and digging into the ground he found a quantity of the precious article, specimens of which have been exhibited and tested. Since this time further search has been made and still more yellow pieces found. The ground near where this gold has turned up, has generally been understood by our citizens, to have been, for a time, a camping ground or resting place of some of the early pioneers, or missionaries, sent out by the old French Monarch, whose name was then bestowed upon our Lake and the old Fort, and is now the title or cognomen of this town. More hereafter.

Yours Truly. D.

NAVIGATION AND TRADE OF THE RIVER VOLGA.—A German paper says the quantity of merchandise annually carried on the Volga, is nearly as large as that on the Mississippi. The navigation of the river is also increasing rapidly.—Steam navigation companies are forming, and private individuals are also putting on steamers. Hitherto the majority of the steamers used have been built abroad, but now many are being constructed in Russia. The number of arrivals at Rybinsk, the principal port on the Volga, from the commencement of the season to the 13th of August last, was 3037, and the total number including those which went further up the river to Molaga and Schuksna, 6386. The value of their cargoes united is estimated at more than $51,200,000. Corn, corn-spirits, tallow, salt, copper and iron, form the principal bulk of these cargoes.

City Taxes Again.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

If I could be entirely sure that all, who saw the Mayor's rejoinder (which I think is no rejoinder) in your paper of the 3d instant, would read it attentively in connection with my former communication, I should not deem it necessary to notice it. Those little personal asperities which have crept into his recent communications, in the haste of writing, and in which I think he would not, upon more deliberation, have indulged, I did not notice before, and will not now. They are immaterial to the question which interests all of us more deeply at this moment.

If there was any point to the argument of my letter, which you were kind enough to publish the other day, it was, not that any particular officer had embezzled the city monies, or speculated on the same, but that an extremely loose, unbusinesslike and unauthorized mode of transacting the city business had grown up, that the formalities of the law were dispensed with, that the checks of the charter were disregarded, and that thus a door had been opened to great abuses. I wrote, not to take out of the hands of the people's committee for investigation, their peculiar work, nor will I now be led to trespass upon their province. I wrote simply to justify the language of the committee of the tax-payers' meeting recommending an investigation to see what abuses might have entered in at the open door. I tried to draw attention to this laxity—I specified two important particulars in which this tendency to looseness had shown itself, to wit:

First—In the disbursement of large sums of money raised by the issue of City Bonds for specific purposes, by the Mayor, without authority of law.

Second, the accumulation of an enormous and yearly increasing floating debt upon the city in direct violation of the plain words of the statute. I charge both of these errors upon the city Government generally, but with greater emphasis do I charge them upon the Chief Magistrate of the city, whose especial duty, as enjoined by the charter, it is, to "take care that the laws of the State, and the ordinances of the city are duly observed and enforced, and that all other executive officers of the city discharge their respective duties."

Upon the second point, the Mayor now says nothing. Upon the first, as I understand his last letter, he substantially confesses the facts to be as charged, but replies that he thinks it is of no great consequence. He says, "it made no difference to the city whether the accounts were paid before or after their approval by the Council." And, if he did do a little wrong in that, he thinks he more than atoned for it by his remarkably bold interposition of the veto power to stop the issue of R. R. bonds.

It is true, the Mayor makes a distinction between "disbursing money on behalf of the city," and "disbursing the city monies." He says truly that under the ordinances it was "discretionary with me (him) to sell the bonds at once and place the proceeds in the city treasury, or to hypothecate them in whole or in part, and raise the money necessary for immediate use, &c., &c. But what difference does it make in principle, as to the propriety of the mode of disbursement, whether the funds disbursed were borrowed upon the hypothecation of the bonds, or were raised by the sale of the bonds? In either case they were the monies of the city. In either case the charter required them to be disbursed in one mode, and required the claims, that were to be satisfied by these monies, to be audited and approved before they were paid, and not after.

To show plainly the impropriety of this mode of ignoring the requirements of the charter, I adverted to the danger that might exist, under the administration of a bad man, of the direct employment of the money of the city in speculating on private account—in buying up the orders or other evidences of city liability with city funds, at a discount, and returning these orders or other evidences into the treasury in the place of cash. And what difference does it make whether the orders are bought with the actual avails of sales of bonds, or whether, with the bonds in his hands to be used for the city, the Mayor borrows the money by hypothecating them as security—buys up the orders with moneys thus raised (and which he is pleased to say belonged to himself) and then, in his official capacity, sells the bonds, raises the money, and with the right hand of the Mayor pays into the left hand, J. B. Cross, the amounts of the orders bought up by him in his private capacity.

Suppose at a period when the City owed more debts than there were monies in the treasury to pay—a time for example, when the city was owing $600,000,00, and had no money—and $250,000,00 of bonds were placed in the hands of the Mayor, to be sold, or hypothecated, to raise money. It is plain (is it not?) that all the creditors cannot be paid out of the monies thus to be raised. If, at such a time, it should become known, or suspected, by the holders of one half of these claims against the city, that the Mayor, contrary to his plain duty, could be led to pay out the monies which he should receive from the sale or hypothecation of the bonds directly to them, instead of placing them in the treasury subject to the call of all the creditors of the City, how large a bonus do you believe they would, in the present state of the money market, be willing to pay, to secure this independent action on the part of that officer in their behalf? Or, if he were not sordid, and magnanimously declined a bonus in money, under both large a "debt of gratitude" think you they would, to secure the same object, be willing to acknowledge themselves—payable in political support, on demand? I put this hypothetical case with the greater freedom, for the reason that no personal allusion to our present Mayor can be suspected, since the history of the times affords, as I think, ample proof that that gentleman must have been virtuous and even-handed in the use of the monies he had borrowed, otherwise he could not have failed at the recent election, to be transferred to another and a higher sphere of usefulness.

But seriously, in the answer of the Mayor on this point, to wit: that "it made no difference to the City whether the accounts were paid before or after their approval by the Council," satisfactory? The City is the principal, and the Mayor is the agent. How would any other principal regard a similar answer from an agent? If I had a large property, and had extensive works of improvements going on, and had occasion to mortgage my estates, and to appoint an agent to sell the mortgages, or hypothecate the same to raise money for my present necessities, and place the avails with my bankers, and had at the same time given full and explicit directions, which were known to my agent, to the effect that, no expenditure for improvements or for any other purpose should be incurred in any one year beyond the net income of my estates for that year, and that no bill or claim against me of any kind or nature whatever should be paid until it had been first audited and adjusted by my confidential clerk, or otherwise than by my own check or order; and on one fine morning I should be informed, that, in direct violation of my instructions, debts had been incurred to double or treble the amount of my income; that my securities, (before at premium,) were selling at fifty cents on the dollar; that in point of fact I was suddenly and unexpectedly brought to the verge of bankruptcy; and, for the purpose of ascertaining the true state of my affairs, I should institute an investigation and thereupon should learn that all my securities had been sold, but that not a dollar had been deposited with my banker; that in the place of the money, my agent had deposited a bundle of receipted bills and drafts given in my name, by some of my clerks or employees without authority, and of which I had before known nothing; that my account was actually largely overdrawn, and I had no money to meet the most pressing and honorary claims against me? would it be harsh if I should say this to my agent, "In disbursing these large sums, the avails of the sales of my securities without my request, without placing the same to my credit in bank, and in payment of bills and drafts which had never been adjusted and allowed by my confidential clerk or by myself, and involving me so hopelessly in debt against my plain directions, you have acted in a manner quite unwarranted?" And if he should retort that (by winking at their neglect of duty, and indulging their little private schemes for peculations and profitable jobs at my expense) he had secured the unanimous approval of the whole body of my under agents and employees—would I be justified if I still insisted in reply, "you should have disposed of my monies according to my directions?" And if, after all this, he should have the effrontery to rejoin—"Sir, you misconceive my position altogether, in supposing that I have been disbursing your monies, I have only been disbursing money in your behalf. I did not at first sell but pledged your securities and borrowed money on my own personal responsibility and agreed to pay as soon as I could make sale to, and thereupon the money borrowed "belonged to myself," and I had a right to use it in paying such of your debts as I thought proper, and in buying up your floating drafts and bills if I pleased, and then, to sell the securities, and with the avails pay myself the face of those drafts and bills and return them to your banker as cash:"—what answer should I or could I make?

I am fearful that my fellow citizens, who speak lightly of his services, have not considered the "debt of gratitude" we are under to our Mayor. Think of the risk he run for the public good!! When the city is too poor to gain a credit, he borrows money on his own "individual responsibility," and agrees to pay "as soon as he can make sale of bonds"—at the same time putting those bonds into the hands of the lender to be sold!!

But the Mayor derives great comfort from the assurance—"If the spirit of the Charter has been violated in the instances which my learned friend has alluded to, the city has lost nothing by it." I have no doubt he is sincere in giving that assurance. But who is able to know that the city has lost nothing by it? How is his honor able to know that the city has lost nothing by it?—When he pays $100 to J. Taylor's receipt, or $1,000 to J. Taylor for superintending bridges on a bill never audited by the Comptroller or allowed by the Council, and when nobody knows who employed J. Taylor to superintend bridges, or how he became entitled to that sum, or when he pays a large list of bills, each for hundreds of dollars for lumber or for labor about repairing bridges, simply on the approval of J. Taylor, Chairman of the Bridge Committee, or of P. Markey, Bridge Superintendent, and which bills were never audited and adjusted or allowed by the proper authorities, how could he certainly know that the city had lost nothing by it?—When he paid those unaudited bills he certainly had not before him the proper evidence that the city would lose nothing by it. He doubtless had implicit confidence in the Chairman of the Bridge Committee, and believed he would do no wrong. But a bad man might at some time be Chairman of that Committee, and the Chief Magistrate must preserve himself above the suspicion of being capable of being innocently imposed upon by designing men."

Is it surprising that, under such an administration of affairs, the Comptroller should estimate the enormous sum of $8,000 as necessary for the item of bridge repairs for a single year.

It is my individual opinion that the rejoinder to my former communication is not conclusive.

I certainly have no personal controversy with my friend, the Mayor, for whom I have always entertained a high regard; nor yet with Alderman Taylor, or any other member of the city government. I am not sure that some of the evils complained of, are not such as might have been fallen into, at such a period of general extravagance, as we have passed, by other honest men. The present is an important, practical question to me, as a citizen and a tax-payer. To them, as older citizens and larger taxpayers, the same question is of still greater moment. If I am right, they are interested in a greater degree, to have my views prevail. I only desire to draw attention to the system, which, I think, is ruining us, and to call out such an intelligent expression of disapprobation from the people, that whoever shall hereafter undertake the management of our city affairs, will be extremely careful not to fall into similar erroneous practices. I think our Mayor is entitled to credit for many official acts. His last message was, on the subject of city economy, all that could be desired. His threatened check on the issue of the city bonds to Rail Roads, was, in my opinion, not only expedient but authorized; and I am sorry that the suspicion should have gained ground that he was willing to employ his negative power in that particular case to promote the speedy construction of the Huron street Bridge.

So far from deeming him tyrannical in the use of the veto power, I think him decidedly indulgent. For example, when the Common Council removed the city offices from Martin's Block to their present rooms, they could have remained where they were, with all the rooms which they then occupied; also the rooms on the next floor commonly known as the Odd Fellow's rooms, and a large double office down on the second floor for the city treasury—and all at the annual rent of $1,000. Now, if you notice the fact that the former location on Wisconsin street was greatly preferable to that on Huron street; that the market value or rental of offices on Wisconsin street, was at least double that on Huron street; that nevertheless the Board of Aldermen determined to remove from Wisconsin to Huron street, assuming to pay for rent $3,000 per year, instead of $1,000—incurring also an expense in the very act of removal of over $1,000; and for fitting up and furnishing the new rooms of over $5,000; and that at a time, when we were in debt, and our credit so low that these new expenses must be met by the sale of our bonds at fifty cents on the dollar; I think you will agree with me, that when the Mayor saw the Board badly bent upon this scheme of reckless extravagance and waste, and could not, in any other way, prevail upon them to desist, we would have pardoned in him in that additional instance, "the exercise of the veto power, which the charter does not expressly confer upon the Mayor."

What the true remedy for the evils we suffer is, I hinted at in mplast. I do not mean to leave the impression that the present incumbents of the city offices are corrupt men above all others. In all the other relations of life, many of them have challenged a fair share of respect. But it is to be apprehended, that with many of them, the point of honor in relation to their public trusts has become extremely indistinct; that the sentiment which we sometimes denominate highmindedness, when directed to those public relations and duties, has either died out or become grossly perverted in their minds—just as it sometimes said that the sentiment of true and high patriotism in a nation expires in long periods of peace and tranquility, when the generation that had felt shot has passed away.

The offices of Mayor and Aldermen are without salary, and it has been a subject of remark that sometimes the incumbents, without any trade, profession or other visible business or source of income, grow in wealth quite beyond the comprehension of the outside world. I will not say that there may not be circumstances under which men, in these positions, may innocently profit from knowledge which they incidentally gain in the discharge of their official duties. It is my good fortune, if the public necessity requires the construction of a bridge which doubles the market value of my lot, and the advantage fairly belongs to me whether I am an alderman or not. But the fear is, that it may happen, in some cases, that each one is too intent upon grinding his own ax—upon carrying out his own little scheme for private advantage, to be in a position either to vigilantly watch or rigidly restrain the others from the commission of wrongs.

How shall Alderman A., who stands in need of the approval of his associates, and of the Mayor, to the sale of his lots to the city, at a double price, for a School House site, or Alderman B., who needs the same indulgence to contracts at high rates for large amounts of Ward work in the name of his father, or brother, or partner; or Alderman C., who wants a bridge built at the city's charge, to the immediate enhancement of the value of his own lot; or Alderman D., who wishes bonds issued to his Railroad, or has some other scheme (innocent or otherwise) for his private emolument, be in a position firmly to resist the Mayor in any project which he may desire to put forward to his private advantage? Or, on the other hand, how shall the Mayor be as stern as Brutus in restraining abuses by the Aldermen whose assent is necessary to the construction of his bridge, or to the leasing of his offices at a triple rent, and furnishing the same on a scale of liberality commensurate with the growing prosperity of the city, of which he is the honored Chief Magistrate? It is feared by many, that under such influences as these, among others, the scandalous prodigality, which has confessedly existed, has crept into the administration of the city affairs.

It is an error, easy to fall into, to suppose that forms are unimportant so that no present injustice is done. If there is any excellence in anything peculiarly American, it is in the idea of fixing the organic law of the community in writing. The Constitutions of States and the Charters of cities, are devised to limit and define the powers and duties of their respective governments. They are the buoys and beacons that are to guide our ship in fog and storm. But constitutions and charters are a dead letter and powerless when the people cease to keep a jealous eye to their strict observance. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" and of everything valuable under human government.

O. H. WALDO.

NEW DAILY PAPER.—In these hard times when almost every enterprise is at a stand-still, and people are all preaching economy, retrenchment, &c., it is really refreshing to see anything like progress. The first number of the Beaver Dam Daily Citizen, a sprightly little sheet, comes to us full of news and confident of its success. It says:

"As an experiment, we issue our little sheet to-day, and shall keep it 'running' until we can satisfy ourselves whether it can be supported or not, which will probably take about three months time—at all events it will be continued for that length of time."

After speaking of the importance of a daily publication, it continues:

"Our object is to make a home paper for "home folks," free from personalities, and just towards all parties. If you find that we come up to your ideas of the term, readers, we ask you kindly for your support, and we trust we will receive it. We shall spare no effort to make our little sheet worth what we ask for it, and we trust every one will give it a fair trial before rejecting it from their doors.

We trust that the "experiment" may prove successful, and if the good people of Beaver Dam understand what is for their interest, they will see that the "little sheet" is kept "running."—Success to it!

WANTED.—To know the whereabouts of John Makurskie, the son of Michael Makurskie, who has not been heard from in about two years.—Anybody having knowledge of him will confer a favor on his friends by addressing Michael Makurskie, Wolf River, Kewaunee County, Wisconsin.

The Season in the Pineries.

The Stevens Point Pinery, of the 5th instant, has the following summary of affairs, up that way:

Old Jack Frost appeared here about the 20th of November, on his way down South. He returned last night, and brought about 4 inches of snow, almost the first we have had to make real good sleighing. There is a prospect of his remaining—thermometer this morning at zero.—Credit left this region last fall in search of currency, which is NON EST. The primitive custom of exchange of wares, is fast enabling us to dispense with both credit and currency. The Wisconsin runs down stream, and turns mill wheels nevertheless; and in the spring no doubt grass will grow and the birds will sing again.—As for the merchants they will sell off their stock, if they have the good sense to advertise in the Pinery.

Lumber, it is said, is coming down; though we expect but small quantities will reach here from above before the ice goes out—and then much of it will be in the log. The market below was supplied last summer, so now our farmers will be able to get a little to fence and build with, at something less than $20 per M.

The Tax-gatherers are abroad, but get no money—only orders from the insiders. We are to have a Fire Company.

No stop yet to the erection of new buildings; we saw a sett of carpenters at work on several; and on one setting brackets, painting and finishing cornice 50 feet high in the air.

The bridge across Mill Creek is finished, and the Black River Road passable for teams.

Judge Cate's Court is in session at Plover.—The Docket swept of nearly all the cases.

The market is thus quoted:

Flour, per barrel,	$4,00
Pork, "	7a8c.
Lard, "	18c
Salt, per barrel,	$6a7
Potatoes, per bushel,	20c
Oats, "	35a40c
Eggs, per dozen,	15a18c
Venison, per pound,	7c
Butter, "	30c
Beans, per bushel,	$1,25
Corn, per bushel,	40a50c
Corn meal per hundred,	$1,25
Hay,	$10,00

KILLING A MAN BY SLOW TORTURE.—A barbarous crime, rivalling in its inhumanity the cold-blooded tragedies of India, was perpetrated in a New York grog-shop, a few nights since. The Evening Post gives the following particulars:—On the night of the 22d Dec., Michael Sheehan, an ex-policeman, went into a rum-hole on the corner of Pearl and Dover streets, kept by a man named Buckley. Three persons accompanied him, the names of two of whom—Patrick Murray and Wm. Fagan—are given, Sheehan—who has, since losing his place on the police, taken to hard-drinking and idleness—was asked to treat, which he did, and offered in payment a $2 bill on the Shoe and Leather Bank, which the barkeeper said was counterfeit. The bill was given by Sheehan, and the bill was handed to Fagan, who also pronounced it spurious. Sheehan declared Fagan a liar, and received a kick in the groin from Murray, which felled him senseless to the floor. Fagan, another ex-policeman of Mayor Wood's old force, then took Sheehan by the collar and pounded his head upon the floor several times. The ruffians then lighted papers and placed them about his hands and feet, and between his fingers. His boots were nearly burned off his feet. This treatment partially revived the sufferer, and he was then dragged by his brutal tormentors behind the bar, where they attempted to force gin down his throat. Buckley, the proprietor, here interfered, and the three fellows who went in with Sheehan to get treated, and afterwards so brutally abused him, left the place. The next morning Sheehan was removed by some of his friends, and died on the 31st Dec. A Dr. Morton gave a certificate that he died from intoxication, and no inquest was held—Sheehan's sister, the only relative with him, not understanding that it was her right and duty to call the Coroner. Before the corpse could be taken to the cemetery for burial, knowledge of the circumstances came to Coroner Connery, who took possession of the body, and held an inquest, when the facts above stated were sworn to. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused parties.

A Word about the Bill Posters.

PERHAPS some of the gentlemen who discharge the duties of Bill Posters, do not fully realize that their business is attended to in just no kind of way at . Perhaps their patrons are not aware of this, and when they find it out, perhaps they will keep on patronizing them.

We have had two or three instances mentioned to us recently, where the Bill Posters have left circulars and bills by the dozen at a single place, so as to get rid of them all, as soon as possible. At one place they were thrown into a store door by the pile. Gentlemen men who send bills about town, will do well to see that they get distributed half way about town. In many cases they do not.—Daily Wisconsin, Jan. 8.

A Psalm of Life.

WHAT THE HEART OF ONE BOY SAID TO ANOTHER—RESPONDED AT DANVILLE LOW.

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
Life is but an empty dream!
Children in their evil slumbers
Are by no means what they seem.

Life is rust, life is earnest:
And the skull is not its pen—
Dig them are and egg remained,
Was not spoken of the hen.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way;
But to scratch, that each to morrow
Finds us better than to-day.

Art is long, and time is fleeting,
Be our hill then sharpened well;
Not like muffled drums be beating
On the inside of the shell.

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the great barn yard of life,
Be not like the lazy cattle—
Be a rooster in the strife!

Trust no hawk, however pleasant,
And yet never be it said,
When the birds of prey were present,
You were skulking in the shed.

Lives of old cocks all remind us
We can make our lives sublime;
And when roasted, leave behind us
Bird tracks in the sands of time.

Bird tracks that perhaps another
Chicken, dropping in the rain,
A forlorn and henpecked brother,
When he sees, shall crow again!

Let us, then, be after hatching,
With a heart for every fate,
Ever scratching, ever scratching,
Learn to cackle and to prate.

WHO IS COMMODORE PAULDING?—Hiram Paulding comes honestly by his skill in arresting unlawful expeditions. His father was that celebrated John Paulding, the Peekskill farmer, who was one of three captors of Major Andre. Hiram was born in Westchester county, and early in life entered the navy, where he has gradually worked his way up to his present position. He has ever been one of the most efficient and valued officers in the service; and government a short time since showed its appreciation of the fact, by appointing him to the command of the Home Squadron, which he now holds.

We observe intimations that the Commodore "exceeded his instructions" in so promptly capturing Walker. The same complaint was made by Arnold's friends against John Paulding.—Nevertheless, history and public opinion justified the one and will justify the other.—Albany Evening Journal.

A SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING.—A party of Surveyors came into Sacramento, Cal., a few days since, with their pockets full of gold dust. They explained the presence of these sanguinary trophies by saying that "they had come difficultly with the Indians."

☞ A gentleman was promenading a fashionable street, with a bright little boy at his side, when the youngster cried—

'O, pa, look! there goes an editor!'

'Hush! hush!' said the father, 'don't make sport of the poor man. God only knows what you may come to yet.'

PROFESSOR DE GRATH would state explicitly that he is the discoverer and solepossessor of the secret of the manufacture of Electric Oil, which could not be purchased for $1,000,000—and $50,000 will be given to any chemist who will make it. My Oil has performed all the cures published in the Leader for years past. Ask Col. Grant, 26 North Thirteenth st., Dr. Billingsworth, 303 North Third street; Mrs. Cannon, Coates street; Paul Jones, Jarvis street; Mr. Cripps, Thirteenth and Girard avenue, and others ad infinitum, who have been cured of Rheumatism by my Oil; and I will not be responsible for the evil consequences of the base imitations. Beware, and be safe. Sole Depot for the pure and only lethal Electric Oil, No. 32 South Eighth street, near Chestnut. Price 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.

PROF. CHAS. DE GRATH,
Sole Maker of Electric Oil in the World.

Not removed.

☞ For sale by Bosworth & Sons, and J. H. Tesch—Milwaukee; Fahnestock & Davis, and Reed & Co., Chicago; and by Druggists and Merchants generally throughout the country. jan11d&wlw

WHO THAT IS TROUBLED.—With any of those disagreeable complaints, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or Liver diseases of any kind, but would like to know of a remedy for these unseemly visitations? We feel that we are doing our invalid readers an invaluable service if we can induce them to get a bottle of Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, and take it, for we know from personal experience that it is one of the greatest remedies for general debility, and consequent inactive bodily powers, ever before used. Its action is so perfect and complete as to give relief the first time taken, and if it does to others as it has to us, half a bottle will be all that is needed. We know of nothing we can recommend with,such confidence, as a family medicine, as the Invigorator. (See Advertisement.)

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—Prof. Wood, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable Hair Restorative, still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted. His medicines are universally admitted by the American press to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged, that has been silvered for many years, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantage of youth. There can be no doubt that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores permanently gray hair to its original color, and makes it assume the beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world.—St. Louis Morning Herald.

CALEB WALL'S ADV'TS
CITY AUCTION ROOM.

City Auction Room.

I GAVE NOTICE through our papers last week, that I had a large stock of Dry Goods from N. York, from Sixth Avenue, No. 820, corner of Twenty-first st. The goods are all from New York, and no other place; and as regards the goods, there are not many famous ones; so much the better. They are plain, substantial goods, which we all want every day in our families. The goods are now all opened in the store on the west side of the river, formerly occupied by J. L. Pierce, where they will remain for thirty or sixty days. It is no intention of mine whatever to open a retail store, although I have as much right to do as a piece, as any one else has to do as he pleases. I have heard that several of our merchants complain that I am injuring them by selling goods retail. I would kindly say to those merchants that the goods are all paid for, and if they will come and purchase them of me at a reduced price, I will give them credit, provided they can give me good paper, endorsed six and twelve months; for I will sell the entire stock out, which amounts to twenty thousand dollars, on the following terms: One-fourth cash in three months—balance in one, two or three years, with seven per cent. interest, secured by a mortgage on property in the city. But I shall continue to retail the goods until they are all sold, and I would say to all of our citizens to go and get great bargains. There is every kind of goods you want at thirty per cent less than ever sold in the city before. Mr. Ayres has the entire charge of the said goods. Attend to all auction business at the old corner, and will give it that strict attention I always have done. Any one having stocks of goods to sell, I am ready at all times to purchase the same. Call on me.
dec8 CALEB WALL, City Auctioneer.

City Auction Room.

I WANT to purchase twenty thousand to thirty thousand dollars worth of Dry Goods, in the following way: One quarter cash, balance in good city property, or I will pay one-third cash, one-third in Stocks, I will exchange good Bonds and Mortgages, or Railroad Stocks, or School Lands. Any one who is tired of trade, and wishes to give up and retire to private life, call on me and I will buy you out. My object is to do good trade and keep myself at the same time. Or, if any one wants to sell his stock of Goods at auction, I will advance him from one-fourth to one-third it is worth on said Goods. I will advance on all kinds of Goods, Furnitures, &c., &c., but said Goods will be sold in ten days after the advance, or the parties can, if they wish, redeem by paying the Commission. All I want is to make money out of money, and keep the balance rolling. I also want it understood that I am ready to do all auction business on trust, and to my care. Oh, I would also say that the great stock of Goods which has been selling on the west side of the river, at half price, that I have concluded to keep the store open for thirty days longer. The crowd is so great and Goods so cheap that I think it my duty to give all a chance to get bargains. Recollect the store-room formerly occupied by J. L. Pierce, on west side of the river.
dec22 CALEB WALL.

City Auction Room.

ANOTHER STOCK OF GOODS arrived, all from New York. I have now, I think, the largest and most complete assortment of Dry Goods, ever in the corner store, where J. L. Pierce formerly kept, on the west side of the River. The said Goods are going on 60 per cent. less than cost. Great crowds every day.—Twenty two thousand dollars worth of Goods, everything you can think of. The stores ready to wait on every person. A chance.
CALEB WALL.

City Auction Room.

I HAVE, left in my care, a superior Family Horse, which can be recommended, and will be sold at a great bargain to some one. The owner of said horse is going to be absent for six or eight months. This is the reason said horse is sold. It will be sold on six months time if desired.

AT THE MILWAUKEE Venerian Hospital, established for the cure of Syphilis, Seminal Weakness, and the infirmities of youth and maturity, by Dr. Barnes.
Dr. BARNES takes pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Milwaukee and other places, that his office is at No. 12 Wisconsin Street.
READ AND REFLECT.—The afflicted would do well to reflect before trusting their health, happiness, and in many cases, their lives, in the hands of physicians ignorant of the cause of maladies. It is certainly impossible for one man to understand all the ills the human family are subject to.
YEARS OF PRACTICE, exclusively devoted to the treatment and study of Syphilis, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, effect of solitary habits, ulcers upon the body, throat, nose or legs, pain in the head or bones, and all Mercurial Affections, and all impurities of the Blood, whereby the constitution has become enfeebled, enables the Doctor to offer relief to all who may place themselves under his care.
Dr. B. exhibits no charge for short consultations.—Those requiring much advice should enclose a small fee sufficient to compensate for the time required to write the answer.
